The Algebra Problem.

THE clock in the dining room struck twelve.

"I can't work any longer; it's time I were in bed an hour ago," and Orville Newton reluctantly gathered up his books and formulas. "It—ought to come," and forgetting the lateness of the hour in his eagerness to solve the problem, he once more began vigorously figuring on a fresh piece of paper.

"It's queer how he ever knew anything about 'General Theory of Equations,' but I don't suppose, seeing it's he, it's anything to be wondered at. His whole history's a snarl of oddities!"

Orville turned to a formula he had copied in his note-book.

"I know I didn't make a mistake; I learned it verbatim. 'To obtain a superior limit of the positive roots, we increase by unity the root of the greatest negative coefficient, whose index is the number of terms which precede the first negative term.'"

"Strange it won't come; perhaps he gave us the wrong answer. But then, I couldn't prove it by any result I've got thus far."

The clock struck one.

"Half—past—twelve! My! this is dangerous," and Orville compared his watch with the dining-room time. "Can't sit up any longer if I expect to be good for anything tomorrow. I've got them all but one anyhow—and I'll get that in the morning. I've got to; there's only one day more before we're to hand them in. Don't believe Carl Harriman has the one under 'Interpolation.' How in the world could Deacon Harvey ever know anything about advance algebra, and yet, he read off the formulas as readily as a b's's."

Algebra was one of the Deacon's hobbies, as was also oratory, and never a year went by but that he offered a prize in the village-high school on one subject or other. The year before the contest was in oratory; now as he jocosely remarked, when the contest was broached, "It's algebra's turn."

He stood for a moment before the school, deliberately scanning the faces before him.

"Somehow, algebra an' oratory seems to be related, so to speak, kind of hand-an'-glove-like. Algebra sort of trains the mind to think, an' oratory makes it possible to express one's thoughts in a confident an' graceful way. I've always regretted I didn't have trainin' in oratory. As for algebra, I'm not findin' fault. No one in my day could boast of better instructions in that branch than I had."

"Last year I offered ten dollars for the best oratory, markin' it to be made on composition an' delivery. You remember Carl Harriman got the prize, though Orville Newton gave him a dangerous close shave—judges said his enunciation wasn't clear; an' that's one of the main things in oratory. Now this year there's no enunciation to be considered; it's to be just brain work an' plain figurin', an' if you haven't got any voice at all you'll stand just as good a chance to win the prize as a Hayne or Webster."

"I'm goin' to give eighteen problems; just a dozen an' a half, as you see, an' formulas to go with 'em—an' answers! An' the one who works out the largest number right will get the prize, an' it's to be," the Deacon paused and critically surveyed the school, "expens' paid for one year in any institution in the state, an' this includes board, books, an' tuition, an' a reasonable amount of spendin' money. Boys can't get along without spendin' money any more than can a Yankee without a jackknife. But mind you, the prize won't be given for less than twelve correct solutions out of the eighteen—there must be a dozen right!"

Three weeks had been given for the work, and five days before the limit Orville had worked correctly seventeen of the problems.

"Don't believe Carl got half of

ST. PETER ON GUARD AT THE GOLDEN GATE.

BY SAM WILSON.

I'll try to tell the story straight, A scene transpired at the golden gate; Though years have come and fled away Some portions in my memory stay. Curiosity led me once to view A gate beset with brilliant hue; ST. PETER had it in full charge, And opened to all, both small and large. It seemed not long before my eyes And heart were met with great surprise. For, lo! a crowd came up the way, And all were singing a heavenly lay. These people came from near and far And all passed in without a jar; Then PETER quickly closed the gate, And I remained to watch and wait.

And in the silence while I sat My thoughts and I began to chat, And oft I wonder how it came, No many to enter without a stain? Was there a mistake? Was PETER blind? Such queries as these ran in my mind Until at last, my reverie fled, The scene my eyes began to explore. Some moments elapsed as while I took At the gate of gold an earnest look; While thus absorbed I heard the lay of others singing on the way. I stepped aside to view them all, The rich and poor, and great and small, Of every creed, of every tongue, A multitude of old and young.

The gate was opened, they made a rush, And some were trampled in the crush; But PETER stepped in front and said, "Be easy, men, I'm so afraid. "That some within this mighty throng May slip in where they don't belong. So fall in line, and one by one I'll see the good that you have done." At last 'twas done—the good ones came And entered in without a stain; Then PETER came and stood without, And told the rest how it came about. And more than this, he told them all That while upon this earthly ball They never paid their just account, Whether great or small was the amount. "Go back to the world, pay up thy dues To Editors who have printed the news— Give SPENCER a dollar; have some pluck And take a guess! Just try your luck!"

"Don't be delinquent all thy life, But help the Editor in the strife; Don't borrow papers from neighbors' bins, If you expect to reign on high. "And when you leave the earthly ball I'll let you in to see it all, For the gate is never shut to those Who read THE HERALD to its close." And those who send a dollar now Shall wear a crown upon their brow; Send mine and guess. Don't be outdone, For YOU may be THE LUCKY ONE!

ETHNOLOGY—PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

The Ethnology Building is circular in form, standing at the junction of the Court of Fountains and the Esplanade. The exhibits will relate particularly to the Ethnology and Archaeology of the Western World. Many new specimens will be exhibited relating to the North American Indians. A living exhibit of the Six Nations will be given under direction of this division, and there will also be full size representations of prehistoric mounds.

He won't have any Dr. Andrews this time to show partiality among the judges—facts are facts! Enunciation indeed! Everybody said my syllables were spoken clearly, and anyhow, I didn't continually pronounce government 'goverment'!

"My! a year in the electrical department of the Polytechnic Institute—think of it! Won't you be a happy fellow, Orville Newton, if you get such a chance as that—and you must!"

"Twas only one day before the contest closed and still the refractory example remained unsolved."

"Carl has them all but two," announced Tom Barrows, who came to borrow a "Speaker" for the last day.

"Suppose he should get the other two," thought Orville almost fiercely, as he worked away feverishly on the obstinate problem.

"But he won't—not if I can't!" "Better rest awhile," suggested Mrs. Newton, late in the afternoon. "You're getting tired."

Orville laid down his pencil. "While you're taking a breathing-spell, I wish you'd run up in the attic and bring me down the dye-pot. It's over under the shelf of old books."

As Orville reached the attic his eyes rested for a moment on the collection of old and worn volumes before him.

"There's a—"

He excitedly took down a Davis' algebra.

"Suppose he found it all worked in—"

Orville didn't finish the sentence, but turned breathlessly to "General Theory of Equations."

"The very example!" he exclaimed triumphantly after a moment, "and—solved! Now, Mr. Carl, who'll go to the Tech!"

There was a hush of anxious expectancy, both among visitors and pupils, as Deacon Harvey stepped forward to the desk to announce the winner of the prize.

"Cheer up, old man, don't look so pale," whispered Dick Evans, who sat in the seat with Orville. "Carl isn't in it, this time—no enunciation, this deal, you know!" Orville made a miserable failure

Preacher Pieratt's Pleasantries.

BURTON, ILL., July 22, 1901.

Dear Bro. Cooper: I will drop you a few lines, thinking my friends would like to hear from me.

I have concluded to continue my work here until the first of January next. Then we will go back to Hazel Green for a while; but don't know how long we will stay. I like this country, and the people, but my health is not as good as it was in Kansas.

We are needing rain here very badly. Farmers say that if it don't rain soon corn will be damaged a great deal. Farmers are very busy now taking care of their hay, oats and grass. We are having the hottest weather, I believe, that I ever saw, and the sun has full swing here on the prairie.

We enjoyed so much the letter from "Sunny Side," and think her idea about Mr. Cooper's baby was about right. May it still live on an on to a ripe old age and every week visit the many homes that anxiously await its coming, for it is read by our dear boy across the deep water. We wish you great success, and if the people will do as they did by Moses, hold up your hands, there will be nothing to hinder you from having the best paper in Eastern Kentucky. We are proud of our paper, school and church. Yes, as Mr. Wilson says, we can boast of Hazel Green in many things. My wife says it is the garden spot of the world, and she is about right.

The Kentucky boys are all well. There is hardly a week but what we see some one from Kentucky. They come and go; some are satisfied and some are homesick. Right then they will pull up and start back home.

We wish you great success, and my wife joins in love to you and Mrs. Cooper. Your friend,

J. T. PIERATT.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made by F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Testimonials free.

Kizer Wilson All Right. THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD of last week contained an account of the "mysterious disappearance" of Kizer Wilson of this city. We are glad to state that THE HERALD was misinformed, and that Mr. Wilson is alive and well. Mr. Wilson left here in the early spring for a trip through the west. It is true that he was not heard from for some time, and his brother, Henry Wilson of this county, grew alarmed at his long silence, and this probably caused the rumor of his disappearance. Last week, however, Kizer wrote a letter to his brother, from Horace, Nebraska, where he is staying with his cousin. He says he is in fine health and enjoying himself. He has been traveling from place to place and neglected to inform his brother regularly of his whereabouts. His friends in Eastern Kentucky will be glad to learn that he is all right. —Mt. Sterling Gazette, July 25.

The Secret is Out. All Sadioville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whittaker, who had for a long time, endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble.

"It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little granddaughter of a severe attack of whooping cough. It positively cures coughs, colds, a gripe, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drug stores.

Advertising.

We note an article in THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD treating at length on the principle and custom of advertising, in which the editor presents the very indifferent disposition of his neighbors and business men of his town in regard to this. Shall we not call it a business enterprise?

We should feel disappointed if the business and professional men of our town and community did not buy space in our advertising columns. The idea prevails with a great many people that advertising does not pay, which, however, is the production of the contracted conception and inability of those who think so to see it otherwise.

As an evidence of the advantages and returns of advertising, pick up the various city and country papers and behold the enormous volumes of advertising matter contained therein, and you will be astonished. Now, if it is worthless to advertise, why do multi-thousands everywhere persist in buying space in the papers? Some people think for advertising to pay it ought to enable them to dispose of their stock in a single day. If this were the case it would put them out of business, and one who should expect so much would better be out of business. His ideas and business tactics are not good.

When merchants, business and professional men advertise, their patrons and customers know where to find them and how to obtain their necessities. The polite liberal merchant who advertises is more enterprising than the liberal, polite one who does not advertise.

We invite the attention of our readers and the country at large to our advertisers, and if not now convenient to patronize them, make it so, and you will be satisfied that they are doing a good business, and abiding by what they advertise.—Caney Herald.

ASTONISHED THE EDITOR.

Editor L. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach and liver troubles its a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Son, Campton, drug stores.

Exceptions to the General Rule.

Roland Reed would have his joke, sick or well, says a New York correspondent of the Rochester Democrat. The morning after his most recent operation in St. Luke's Hospital, the comedian was quite certain he was for this earth but a few short hours more. He expressed this view to the night-capped nurse with such despairing vehemence that she feared, if he were not speedily rid of the idea, he might work himself into a fever which would delay his recovery a day or two. Therefore, she humored him by calling the surgeon.

"It's all over this time," groaned Reed, lustily.

"Nonsense," said that worthy, and winked at the nurse. "No such luck! You're good to murder any quantity of stage jokes yet." And, to gratify the actor, he began feeling him over.

"Did you ever hear of anybody near death with both legs and feet as warm as yours?"

"Yes," answered Reed, bracing up enough to get a twinkle into his eye. "Lots of 'em."

"Who were they?"

"The Salem witches."

It relieves permanently, because it allows the tired stomach perfect rest. Dieting won't rest the stomach. Nature receives supplies from the food we eat. ## CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY.

I have been selling perfumes for the past six months. I make them myself at home and sell to friends and neighbors. Have made $710. Every one buys a bottle. For 25 cents worth of material I make Perfume that would cost $2.50 in drug stores.

I first made it for my own use only, but the curiosity of friends as to where I procured such exquisite odors, prompted me to sell it. I clear from $25 to $50 per week. I do not canvass, people come and send to me for the perfumes. Any intelligent person can do as well as I do. For 12 cents in stamps I will send you the formula for making all kinds of perfumes and a sample bottle prepaid. I will also help you get started in business.

Election Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1901.

The forecast in our columns last week in regard to the settlement of the senatorial mud in this district augurs well for the democratic party, in that the committeemen of the district are likely to name us a winner. With both men in the field it was a walkover for Mr. Coffee, but with one of them only running and he backed by the democrats of the district Mr. Coffee will not be in it, except as one who "also ran." We think we could name the man who will be chosen as the nominee of the democratic party at the hands of the committee meeting next Thursday, but will bide our time and not anticipate. It is safe to say, however, that the man who is named will have the endorsement and support of the democrats of the district and that of itself will cause a chill in the republican ranks, for well they know they can not defeat any man who has the full support of the democratic party. Mr. Coffee is a nice man personally and deserves better of his party than to meet defeat the first time he essays to a state office. However, he must sooner or later realize that Mr. Jewell knew whereof he spoke when he uttered his famous aphorism, "Politics is h—." The democratic nominee of the committee on next Thursday will go down in history as "A Coffee cooler."

BIBLICAL history records the fact that Samson slayed the Philistines with the jawbone of an ass. Sampson in naval history (?) of modern times uses the whole animal to smother the character of admiral Schley, and calls it Maclay. Truly a distinction without a difference.

MACLAY, as a historian takes the cake, bakery, oven and dough. Munchausen was truth itself compared to such creatures. But, after all, John Long is the falsifier, and how a man holding the high position he does can stoop so low is beyond the ken of man.

THE people vs. the powers should be the style of the court martial to be held in the Schley-Sampson case. Schley represents the people and Sampson is as clearly the pet of the powers that be.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY should sue Secretary Long and Admiral Sampson for defamation of character. The American people will back him up to a man.

The people of this place must have decended from Macawber, of Dickens' renown, for they more nearly represent his views in matters of enterprise than any people on the globe. Like that gentleman, they are always waiting for something to turn up, instead of turning up something by their own efforts. We have begged them to make some movement toward building a line of communication and transportation to connect us with the Ohio and Kentucky, but they are apparently immovable. They admit that it would be "the thing" for Hazel Green, but they don't take hold and do. Once more we appeal to them to do something that outsiders may be encouraged to put their money in to the enterprise and make it a success.

For the good of the service Admiral Sampson should resign his place in the navy. He acted the coward when he left Schley to do his fighting at Santiago, and he has played the poltroon ever since by vilifying the man who gained the victory over Cervera.

How Admiral Sampson can stand unblushingly before the cartoons now appearing in the New York Journal is more than any decent man can see. Why, such pictures ought to shame the devil himself if he has a conscience.

"Johnny" has arrived. A little over a year ago Burnie Finch and wife were anticipating the arrival of an unnamed visitor, and in advance decided that they would call him "Johnny." The visitor came in due time but proved to be a young lady. Hence the name was not available. On Sunday night, however, Johnny did arrive and there is great rejoicing in the Finch household.

Noah Cisco, who has been visiting Will Cecil of Cedar Bluff, Va., since the close of the academy, returned home last week, and on Monday started canvassing in the interest of the academy. He will visit the adjoining counties and hopes to secure from each a good attendance to "the cheapest and best school in Eastern Kentucky."

Frank Thomas, who has just returned from a trip through Floyd, Johnson, Perry and other mountain counties, says that they are suffering terribly from the drought, and in no county mentioned will there be more than a half crop of corn. Water is scarcer than ever known, and stock has to be driven miles to water.

A big Baptist meeting is booked to begin at the Johnson school house, on Lacy creek, tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 4 o'clock, and a grand time is anticipated. Revs. Strib Rany, Robert Madden, Boone Center and others will conduct the services.

Forty in Prison.

Harry H. Adams, sent to prison in Mexico for causing a wreck on the Mexican Central Railroad, escaped, and reached Kansas City, Mo., July 25. He tells a thrilling story. He says 40 American railroaders are in jail.

Our old friend W. C. Pryor of Campton paid one of our blacksmiths quite a compliment last week, in that he came over here purposely to have Joe Rose shoe his buggy mare, "Boss." He says Joe is the only one who can shoe her just right.

J. Taylor Day, who is now at Winchester is improving in health every day, we understand, and enjoying the visits he has been making. Next month he will visit Warm Springs, Va., after which he contemplates a trip to Canada.

Curtis Quicksall, Robt. Kash, Curtis and Charlie Rose of this place and Willie Alexander of Daysboro attended the tent meeting at Caney on Sunday, and report about 1,000 people in attendance.

Misses Etta May Cecil and Roxie Daniel, two of West Liberty's most charming damsels, visited relatives and friends here from Thursday until Sunday, and in the meantime took in the ice cream supper.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT

Of Hazel Green Academy.

The boarding department of Hazel Green academy for the session of 1901-1902, will be in charge of Q. C. Daniel and wife. These good persons kept the boarders for the academy for two years before moving to West Liberty, where Mr. Daniel is interested in the new mills operated there. They will move to this place about August 15th, and will occupy the buildings used last year for boarders. We are sure their coming back to Hazel Green academy will be the means of drawing pupils to the academy. Let our citizens give to them a royal welcome, especially, as they care for a very important part of our academy—a part upon which much of the success of the school depends.

Jim Bise killed a sow a few days since which undoubtedly had hydrophobia, and before she was killed she bit another hog and a dog to the knowledge of Mr. Bise. The hog that was bitten has since been confined and will be watched with anxiety, but as to the dog we have not heard. It is learned that some one killed a dog between here and Daysboro about 10 days ago that had the rabies, and the sow that Mr. Bise killed was bitten by that dog. There is now no doubt that there are several cases in the neighborhood of Hazel Green and people had better be particular when close to a strange canine.

The Menefee County Teachers' Institute will be held next week at Frenchburg, beginning Monday at 9:30 a. m. Wm. H. Cord of Hazel Green academy will be the instructor.

Prof. J. H. B'kenship, who will have charge of the commercial department of Hazel Green academy, will be in Hazel Green about August 15th, to arrange for the opening of this department on September 3rd.

Dr. Center says that Rev. W. H. Chambers of Stillwater was accidentally hurt one day last week. He was hauling in oats on a sled when the sled turned over and he struck a log, the end hitting him just above the heart. It was very painful at first but nothing serious.

Dr. Center tells us there is no hope for the infant child of Leonard Tatt and wife of Stillwater, it has roseola. He also says the wife of Nathan Combs was quite ill of ulcerated tonsillitis and fever, but is some better. He reports a great deal of sickness.

The annual meeting of the West Liberty district will be held with the Salem church in Morgan county, beginning Friday morning, September 13th, and continuing over Sunday the 15th. It is possible that a convention of the Sunday schools of the district will be held at the same time. Due notice of such and detailed programs will be published in the county papers through a part of August. Salem is an accessible point and we shall expect a most helpful and profitable meeting. Wm. H. Cord, Chairman.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Of Hazel Green Academy, September 3, 1901.

We have made arrangements with a special teacher to take charge of a commercial department of our academy. He comes to us well recommended, and with energy, push and scholarship to make and build up a thorough business school. Young men and women who want to prepare themselves for work in commercial lines, or, as teachers of similar departments, should consider what we have to offer in this special line of our educational work. There will be two courses maintained throughout the session, viz: The business course and the shorthand course. The former includes the first year's work in our "English course," commercial arithmetic, commercial law, correspondence and book-keeping in all forms. The latter includes the first year's work in our "English course," correspondence, and stenography.

Tuition in either course is $20, or the two combined for $30.

An agency for securing positions will be established, and our pupils will be helped to find positions. See. Send for catalogue of particulars. Wm. H. Cord, Prin.

H. F. Pieratt will build four five room cottages just opposite academy grounds as soon as work on the new academy begins. He will cut a street between John Ward and himself, another between Uncle Harry Swango and himself, and a street in rear of his Jack Wood property, where Mr. Thomas now lives. This will make the latter lot a square with a street all around, and the four cottages may be reached by either of two streets. They will be very convenient to people who wish to educate their children, and the ground with each will be ample for a good garden.

Dr. Waldeck's family had a scattering on Tuesday morning last. His daughter, Mrs. John Henry Fautsch, left for Frankfort to join her husband, who is a guard at the penitentiary; his son Will left for Ford to visit his brother Jimmie, who is in business there, and Miss Candy started for Cincinnati, to visit her sister, Mrs. Ollie Perry whose husband is in business there. "Shack" counted up and found that he still had enough to make a respectable sized family.

Will Easterling and wife, who live on the old Amyx homestead, above Daysboro, have a child sick with whooping cough and bronchopneumonia and Dr. Waldeck on Monday had occasion to take the child's temperature. When he did so he found it 108, and he says that in a practice covering 35 years or more he never saw the like before. The child is quite sick but he thinks it on the mend.

The services at the Christian church on Sunday morning and evening are intended for all, and not for a select few. Everybody will be heartily welcomed at each service. Come, making yourself as comfortable as possible. Ladies leaving their hats at home, and men leaving their coats at home, will be welcome during the warm weather. Wm. H. Cord, Minister.

Property holders should bear in mind that J. H. Newland, of Jackson, will soon be here with several thousand feet of guttering—galvanized iron guttering—which he is prepared to put up in a workmanlike manner and guarantee at 12 1/2 cents per foot. This is something nearly every house in town needs, and there will never again be a better opportunity than now.

WANTED—Trustworthy men and women to travel and advertise for old established house of solid financial standing. Salary $750 a year and expenses, all payable in cash. No canvassing required. Give references and enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. Address Manager, 355 Caxton Bldg., Chicago. 11

This is the colored man's day—emancipation.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Name of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

ROGERS, KY., July 20, 1901.

Editor HERALD, Hazel Green, Ky.:

SIR—With your permission, I will submit the following for publication. Our school, known as the Spruce Gap school, district No. 9, commenced Monday, the 15th inst., with Miss Lillie Evans of Hazel Green as teacher, and she was greeted with a good attendance of bright-eyed boys and girls seeking knowledge. The district is highly pleased with its new teacher, who reatters sunshine everywhere she goes. She is a young lady of culture, rare accomplishments, extraordinary beauty, and possesses all the requisites of true Kentucky womanhood. The trustees of District No. 9 are to be congratulated on their good luck in securing the services of such an efficient teacher as Miss Evans. Spruce Gap is situated half way between Campton and Torrent, where fragrant flowers nod their heads in the sunbeams of heaven; where bright waters ripple in eternal melody; where sweet voiced birds sing their sweetest songs; where pretty rainbows, colored with the crimson hues of a million sunsets, span the ethereal blue, and where the traveler as he passes by, lingers lovingly and longingly in the cool shades of the verdant trees that wave their branches in the pure air of Heaven; where as clever people live as ever made foot-prints on the sands of time; where the people are moral, law-abiding and church going; where the shrill whistle of the locomotive can be distinctly heard on the L. & E. rail road as it snorts on its swift way across broad acres; where no tall chimneys with their black smoke spoil the sweet pure air, and no pistol shots from red-handed assassins disturb the sultry moon or the solemn starlight; and where white winged peace and contentment broods over all, and where in the years to come, calm browed history when traced with impartial pen, will assign Spruce Gap the first place on her precious page, as the best school district in Wolfe county, and Miss Lillie Evans as the best teacher that ever taught said school.

Respectfully,
NEWTON CREECH, Pupil.

Rose school house opened on Monday with 41 scholars, with Ely Kash as teacher.

Fled From the Drouth.

Thos. Humphrey, living 15 miles west of Kansas City in Kansas, reached this place Monday with 26 head of horse stock from his quarter section farm which is in the drouth stricken section of the west. Mr. Humphrey says everything on his farm had not only dried up, but sparks from a locomotive set fire to what was left and completed the destruction. He brought his horse stock to Kentucky to sell and succeeded in disposing of four head here. The rest he took to Bath Tuesday to put on pasture. Mr. Humphrey is an old Fleming county boy and went to Kansas 14 years ago. He says the present drouth is by far the worst in his entire western experience and begs description. The ruin of many will follow and numbers of Kansas and Missouri farmers are talking of selling out and going to Texas.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

P. T. Thomas, Sumterville, Ala., "I was suffering from dyspepsia when I commenced taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I took several bottles and can digest anything." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only preparation containing all the natural digestive fluids. It gives weak stomachs entire rest, restoring natural condition. H. F. PIERATT.

For Fever Sores.

Take one pint linseed oil, one-half pint spirits turpentine, and 2 ounces red lead. Put all in a common new milk crock and set on back of stove for fear of getting too hot. Stir constantly with a small wooden paddle, made new for the purpose. It may take one-half to three-quarters of an hour to make it, but persevere until it is as thick as molasses. When cool it will be a thick salve. Apply several times a day. It may make it somewhat painful at first, but it will surely cure. It is good for almost any kind of sore.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

What a Tale it Tells.

If that mirror of yours shows a wretched, sallow complexion, a jaundiced look, moth patches and blotches on the skin, it's liver trouble; but Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, purify the blood, give clear skin, rosy cheeks, rich complexion. Only 25c at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Son, Campton, drug stores.

Cashier in Prison.

Joseph McDowell, formerly cashier of the Estill County Deposit Bank, and who wrecked it by using its funds in speculation, was placed in the Frankfort Penitentiary on Tuesday of last week to serve one year term under one indictment, four others still pending against him.

If the action of your bowels is not easy and regular, serious complications must be the final result. DeWitt's Little Early Risers will remove the danger. Safe, pleasant and effective. H. F. PIERATT.

Looks Like Army Worm.

A pest resembling the army worm is destroying vegetation near Minerva, in Mason county. They stripped a field of millet, leaving nothing but the stalks. The high-way was alive with them for days last week as they crossed to another field.

Wants to Dig for Buried Treasure.

A woman giving the name of Helen Moore appeared before County Judge Gregory of Louisville one day last week with a novel request. She said that a cousin who died 16 years ago had left her $5,000 buried on a farm near Louisville. Her husband died recently and she came from Indian Territory, where they had lived, to reclaim her hidden treasure. She located the farm, which is tenanted by Germans, and went to work for them in order to get a chance to recover her money, but she says they refuse to allow her to search for it and watch her so closely that she gets no opportunity to do so. She therefore asked Judge Gregory to give her a permit to hunt for the money. The Judge explained that he could do nothing for her.

O. O. Buck, Boerne, Ark., says: I was troubled with constipation until I bought DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Since then have been entirely cured of my old complaint. I recommend them. H. F. PIERATT.

Gold and Lead in Kentucky.

Farmers of Hart county are busy exploring certain heretofore valueless territory for gold, asphalt, lead and mineral wealth. Gold bearing quartz has been found. The best yet discovered is on the farm of J. H. King, five miles north. Samples have assayed $12 to the ton. A company has been formed to develop the mine.

Asphalt of fine quality has been unearthed, but it is said to be too pure for street making, as it melts and runs quickly when the sun strikes it.

There is talk of developing the lead mines. Old settlers say that Indian fighters were accustomed to get enough lead from crannies in the rock to make bullets to combat the red men. Iron, coal, oil and phosphates are also being sought.

James White Brantsville, Ind., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve healed running sores on both legs. He had suffered six years. Doctors failed to help him. Get DeWitt's. Accept no imitations. H. F. PIERATT.

Blackberry Cordial.

Put one-half bushel blackberries in a preserving kettle and cook until scalded through well; strain and press out all the juice; put the juice in kettle with the following spices well broken up and put into a bag: "One-quarter pound allspice, 2 ounces each of cinnamon bark and whole cloves and two nutmegs; add 1 pound of loaf sugar to each quart of juice and cook slowly for fifteen minutes; when cool add 1 gill of pure brandy to every three pints of juice. This is an excellent remedy for summer complaint, taken in doses of one tablespoon each hour until relieved.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

In cases of cough or croup give the little one One Minute Cough Cure. Then rest easy and have no fear. The child will be all right in a little while. It never fails. Pleasant to take, always safe, sure and almost instantaneous in effect. H. F. PIERATT.

Electric Cars in the State.

The Louisville, Anchorage and Pewee Valley Electric Railway company has completed arrangements with Eastern and Western capitalists to issue $18,000,000 of forty-five five per cent gold bonds, and the purpose is to gridiron a considerable part of Kentucky with a system of interurban electric railways. The line running from Louisville to Pewee Valley is the trunk from which branches will be run all through the blue grass section of the state, extending as far as Stanford and Richmond.

Eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and sores of all kinds quickly healed by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Certain cure for piles. Beware of counterfeits. Be sure you get the original—DeWitt's. H. F. PIERATT.

Will Live in Fayette.

"Bev" White, who resigned his office of sheriff of Clay county and left Manchester in order that the feudal war of that region might end in peace and supplant a reign of terror which had spread over a period of 50 years, last week purchased a farm of 105 acres of the best blue grass land in Fayette county, on which he will establish his future home. The price paid was $105 per acre. The farm is about four miles from Lexington on the Richmond pike, and was the property of the Pettitt estate.

When you have head ache or neuralgia, try Triphane. Sold by S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, and H. F. Pieratt, Hazel Green. 4f

I cannot praise Vitae-Ore half high enough, for it saved my life when all other remedies and the best doctor I knew of failed. I am now well and stout again. I lived for three months on raw eggs and gruel and then that great and good medicine called Vitae-Ore, that makes people well when they are as helpless as a new born babe, came to me as a savior. I had Catarrh of Stomach, Inflammation of the Kidneys, and Enlargement of the Spleen. Vitae-Ore is also the best thing for Sore Throat and Diphtheria that I have ever seen.

No doubt you are called upon daily to read of some great cure of Vitae-Ore for some unfortunate being. I want to tell you what it has done for me. I was sick one year with stomach trouble—indigestion—then the gallbladder plugged up and I had an able-bodied case of jaundice on hand. The doctor would open or partially open occasionally and inspire hope of recovery only to be disappointed by its again closing. I was cured by Vitae-Ore. I was treated by a first-class physician. I cannot praise Vitae-Ore half high enough, for it saved my life when all other remedies and the best doctor I knew of failed. I am now well and stout again. I lived for three months on raw eggs and gruel and then that great and good medicine called Vitae-Ore, that makes people well when they are as helpless as a new born babe, came to me as a savior. I had Catarrh of Stomach, Inflammation of the Kidneys, and Enlargement of the Spleen. Vitae-Ore is also the best thing for Sore Throat and Diphtheria that I have ever seen.

No doubt you are called upon daily to read of some great cure of Vitae-Ore for some unfortunate being. I want to tell you what it has done for me. I was sick one year with stomach trouble—indigestion—then the gallbladder plugged up and I had an able-bodied case of jaundice on hand. The doctor would open or partially open occasionally and inspire hope of recovery only to be disappointed by its again closing. I was cured by Vitae-Ore. I was treated by a first-class physician. Consultation was held with two of the most prominent practitioners from the "Twain Clinic" and they both agreed that I was suffering from a case of jaundice. I was treated by a first-class physician.
